

Associate Director, Residence Life

RESIDENCE SERVICES

POSITION SUMMARY

The Associate Director, Residence Life (ADRL) is a vital student affairs leader at the University of Victoria and serves as a senior leader within Residence Services. As a student housing and community life professional, the ADRL has accountability for the strategic development, leadership, and management of the Residence Life portfolio at UVic.

This leader utilizes grounded, contemporary theory, pedagogy, and professional standards to operate a comprehensive, leading, and vibrant program inclusive of effective crisis and emergency response. UVic Residence Life is comprised of 125+ employees (professional and student paraprofessional) in teams of community life, conduct, education, and student support.

ABOUT RESIDENCE SERVICES

Student housing shapes the UVic student experience. We play a significant role with the recruitment and persistence of talented students, and our program is imperative for the institution achieving its strategic priorities, including the Indigenous, Enrolment, Accessibility, and Equity Action Plans. At UVic, we are committed to developing a vibrant and engaging learning community that supports both the academic and individual success of our students.

Within Student Affairs, Residence Services has direct impact to the 3,000+ students living in our communities. We are undertaking master planning to create our long-term path and, as ADRL, your leadership will be crucial for defining our culture and a student housing experience that is responsive, nimble, and sustainable for our broader success.

In Residence Services, people are at the heart of our work, with every role having the ability to make a positive and meaningful impact on the student experience. We invite you to join us in that shared purpose.
